Grade 5 | Age 10 | 10/15/16

I started out so small, like a little seed,
dreams of being an acrobat, with great agility and speed!

After all that waiting, I finally could read,
Amelia Bedelia; Curious George; and Junie B.

But then I got older, lost more interest,
at age 6 I wanted to be a hair stylist!

Then I turned 7, started writing books,
had a big imagination, and just thought of great hooks!

The imagination led me to working with colors,
but I still was an A+, hardworking scholar.

I was now in 3rd grade, with a teacher named Ms. Hackett, got inspired to write poems, no more brackets!

Then just before 9, I really wanted to sing,
it came out of nowhere, but now it's my thing.

I think I was 10, when I started acting,
love the thrill of musicals, and reenacting.

Going on 11, trying not to dawdle,
wandering aimlessly, should I try to model?

Well, all I know is that someday I'll find my grid,
but for now I'll think, I'll just be a kid!
